Entered at the Postoffice at Newberry, S. C. as 2nd class matter.

Don't forget the split log drag. Now is a fine time to use it.

The Democrats in congress are divided on the toll exemption clause of the Panama canal act.

Columbia seems to have "A lone bandit" who is an expert. He has been there for some time and so far has been successful in avoiding arrest.

The time is drawing near for the organization of the Democratic clubs. We scarcely get away from one political campaign before we enter another.

Newberry is expecting some 3,000 school children here on Friday and with all of the trustees and patrons there should be several thousand more people in Newberry that day. Let everybody join together with everybody else in making this a glad day for Newberry.

Be ready for clean up day. The programme will be announced Friday. It begins next Monday, April 6, and every citizen should give his hearty cooperation. That there is need for a clean up day and a clean up week no one will dare gainsay. In fact every day should be clean up day.

We notice from the Columbia State that Commissioner Watson has gone to Washington and will make an effort to get the good roads department of the Federal government to furnish a federal patrol for the road from Columbia to Greenville. It is stated that the supervisor of Richland county has put the road from Columbia to the Lexington line in good condition. This covers a distance of about 20 miles out of Columbia. We have no doubt that the supervisor of Lexington county will do the same for the portion which runs through that county. We feel sure that Supervisor Chappell will do his part for the Newberry section. The road from Newberry to Prosperity is now in a fairly good condition but in some places needs attention. From Prosperity to Little Mountain there are places that should have attention, but if the supervisor would put a chain gang force on the Newberry portion of this road it could be put in fine condition with very little work. We hope that the supervisor of all the counties through which this road runs will give the work necessary to make this a fine highway from Greenville to Columbia.

What has become of the old-time farmer who sent his boy to mill every Saturday astride a mule and a sack of corn?—Edgefield Advertiser.

He went to his reward years ago. His son is spending most of his time here in Yorkville. The old mill is gone; the stones are lying half covered in the sand on the bank of the creek, and the dam is washed away. The people on the old farm now get their meal at the store.—Yorkville Enquirer.

It is a sad situation for those to think about who remember the old mill and who have moved to "Yorkville," and as a rule they are wanting to hark back to the scenes of their youth.

It would be well if there were some of these old mills in the country and more home raised corn to be taken there and more robust country boys to ride astride a two bushel sack of it on a mule.

But the country is coming fast into its own, when the boy in "Yorkville" will be longing to be able to go there and live to the music of the lark and the rill of the brook alongside the old mill down by the creek.

EXCUSES KILLING AND WALKS FREE

Calhoun, Ga., March 26.—After Mrs. Charles Chapman told the court that she killed her uncle, Sidney Chapman, because he was guilty of improper conduct towards her, Justice Fox, presiding at her preliminary trial here today ordered the woman's immediate release and she was restored to freedom.

Mrs. Chapman's confession was not unexpected, as her lawyers had announced that she probably would make an important statement in connection with the killing. Last Saturday morning the body of Sidney Chapman was found lying outside the door of Mrs. Lizzie Starnes' home. Mrs. Starnes and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Chapman, were arrested as suspects, and Charles Chapman later was taken into custody on the same charge.

At the preliminary hearing today many witnesses were introduced by the State, some of whom testified that they had heard Mrs. Chapman threaten the life of the dead man.

When the prosecution closed its case late today Mrs. Starnes was called as a first witness for the defense. She said that she knew nothing of the killing. After a brief consultation by attorneys for the defense, Mrs. Charles Chapman was introduced and made her statement.

Simply and directly she told her story of how she shot her uncle.

"It was I who killed Sidney Chapman," she said, "I did it to defend my honor and my good name. He has pursued me and continually thrust his unwelcome attentions on me. I said nothing to my mother because I knew it would worry her.

"On Friday Sidney came to me and threatened me. That night I loaded the shotgun and set it by my bed.

"Between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning Sidney woke me, threatening to kill me if I uttered a word. He told me to follow him and, in the darkness, I secured the gun.

"Sidney went out the door and into the yard. I did not follow, and when he turned to come back for me I shot him and he fell dead, there outside the door."

As Mrs. Chapman finished, the spectators in the crowded court room cheered. There was renewed applause when Justice Fox ordered her restored to liberty. It was reported here tonight that the matter probably would be presented to the grand jury later.

Two Misses and One Miss.

Pittsburg Chronicle.

A maiden lady, Miss Cocker by name, and her niece, who bears the same cognomen, went one evening to a reception at the house of a friend. "What name, please?" inquired the footman.

"Miss Cocker," answered the elder lady.

"Miss Cocker, too," joined the niece, hurriedly.

Whereupon the man of plush and buttons opened the drawing room door and, with all the dignity of his profession, ushered them into the midst of the company with the convulsive announcement.

"Miss Cocker and Miss Cockertoo!"

a box of Tonoline Tablets NOW.

"By George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Tonoline Tablets, for building up of weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of, but without result."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment Tonoline Tablets. "I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by use of Tonoline Tablets, so I decided to try myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else, I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger or more 'nervy' in my life."

Tonoline Tabs are a powerful inducer to nutrition, increases cell-growth, food, increases the number of blood corpuscles and as a necessary result builds up muscles, and solid healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.
